GREAT WESTERN STAMPEDE WAS A REAL SUCCESS

The opening events of the three day stampede at Wynand, Wednesday, Thursday and Friday of last week provided excellent entertainment for the thousands of spectators who attended. The riding was of a standard level seen in Alberta. The horses and riders were certainly given the best of a ride for their money. The stampede was unique owing to the fact that the horses used in the event were all supplied from a band of outlaws owned by Frank Robbins, the promoter of the stampede. The list of competitors included most of the good riders who have figured in recent years in the wild west entertainments put on in Alberta—Jim Ross of Inglewood, a close Nimmons of Wetaskiwin, Bill Day, a Nebraska who has recently settled in Alberta, Harvey Brown of Estevan, Cavanaugh of Melville, Red Koffey of Car, and a score of others whose names are familiar to Alberta horsemen.

P. A. Miquelon, of Wetaskiwin, acted as director of ceremonies, and a really excellent program of music was rendered by Rodney's orchestra. The entertainment was opened by a series of baseball games between local teams. Following the ball games the real program opened with Brown of Estevan riding Two Stars, a horse that went crooked from the chute mount. Brown rode him easily and furnished an excellent exhibition of rough and tumble riding as it was witnessed in the old days. Cavanaugh of Melville, followed on "Shack Hammer" a beautiful bay that showed fight in every jump. Alberta Lightning, an Hobbema Indian, was the third man to ride. He caught a wild colt and rode him. This horse was a twister from the word go, and piled his man a hundred yards from the chute, but the Indian rode him only as a plain Cree can ride. Old Cheyenne was represented at the affair by Bill Day. Bill drew a steer and an active one. Bill rode him to a finish, though the steer bawled every time he hit the ground. Frank Robbins, the promoter of the stampede, took his chute next on a barbecue colt. Right here it may be stated that Robbins is a wolverine west show in himself. He rode the worst horses that faced the chute all that afternoon, barrelled, and straight up and did some of the best wrangling and roping that the cowboy art can produce. Robbins was followed by Doll and Dugan in succession each on a piling horse.

Both went to the grass after giving a first class exhibition of riding. They took the chute next, as a steer, a duster. He rode the steer to a finish, although he finished with a wobble. At Brown took a whiff out of a big bay twister, barbecue. Al unloaded with a rush at about the fourth jump. Lightning drew the next mount and rode him out easily though the horse pitched and bucked. Doll drew a steer and rode him like a merry-go-round. He was given a consolation package in the form of a big Hereford steer and the steer proved to be the strongest piece of the day. He kept Doll riding from the drop of the lid. Crowchill took an exhibition steer down the line next. Crowchill is perfection on a steer and never failed to get the job done. The mount drew a big brown boned steer which gave him the ride of his life. This steer broke through the fence, invaded the Indian village on the bank of the creek and scattered squaws in all directions.

Special mention might be made of the exhibition of riding and roping by Jim Ross of Inglewood. Ross' work is unsurpassed, either with the rope or in the saddle. Robby Hill of Edmonton and Jim Ross gave an exhibition of rope spinning and fence roping that showed a keen mastery of the art. Doll gave a demonstration of a green colt next. He rode a brown class ride. Cavanaugh went out next for an exhibition ride on a big bay, straight pitching mare, Whistling Ann. Annie's musical accompaniment appeared to be disconnected. The bucked gently—but she bucked.

A goat roping contest which followed proved the comedy act of the event. The goats proved active and illusive but Robbins and Jim Ross went them hand to hand. Robbins heel roped him at the second throw and attempted to carry him home on his saddle horse. The Billy came nearer to upsetting the lanky Wyoming rider than did any horse on the grounds. Ross, too, put up an exhibition of close roping with a small loop. But his best efforts were wasted on the goat. Jim went in to defeat at the hands of the Billy.

Crowchill opened the game again with a big Hereford steer, and rode him to a finish. A Holstein steer next put up an excellent exhibition. He was ridden by Day. A quick change race resulted in first money for Cavanaugh

OIL EXTRACTION PLANT PLANNED FOR WATERWAYS

An oil extraction plant is now under construction within the limits of the town of Waterways, for the purpose of determining the possibilities of making commercial use of the tar sands found Deep Creek and the McMurray field. The McMurray Asphaltum and Oil Ltd., of Petrolia, Ontario, has undertaken the project and Thomas Draper, president and managing director of the company, is now in the north country supervising the work. Already parties who have just returned from the Waterways district state good results have been obtained by experiments conducted. In one test made twenty-five pounds of tar sands were found to contain two and a half pounds of lubricating oil. When the company's extraction plant has been completed, conclusive experiments will be carried out, and the value of the McMurray tar sands definitely ascertained.

The McMurray tar sands from the Waterways district was also shipped to Edmonton on the A. & G. W. train which reached the city on Friday night. S. C. Ellis, dominion geologist, is at present, obtaining these to the Wabes for experimental purposes.

CROW'S NEST PASS AGREEMENT TO BE SUSPENDED YEAR

Ottawa, June 20.—At the close of a session in private which lasted until last night, the special house committee on railway costs voted to suspend the Crow's Nest Pass agreement for one year, with the option of suspension for a second year by order-in-council.

These reductions include a cut of 10 per cent on grain, while on the other basic commodities the cut is 15 per cent in the west and 20 per cent in the east. An exception is made in the case of coal, in which a reduction is offered of 10 per cent, varying with the length of the haul.

A proposal, it is understood, was made by a committee of western members that the Crow's Nest agreement be suspended for one year inasmuch as basic commodities other than grain are concerned. On grain the Crow's Nest rates were to apply. This proposal also provided for an optional suspension for a second year by order-in-council. On a vote being called, the committee tied, the casting vote against the proposal was given by the chairman, and the main motion as presented was, it is said, carried by a small majority. The committee's report is likely to lead to some sharp fighting in the house.

Deacon White Announces Disbanding of Western International Pail Loop

The Western International baseball league is no more. It ceased Saturday so far as Edmonton is concerned and on Sunday so far as Tacoma and Vancouver are concerned. The Eskimos and the Bronks may continue to play several more games. President White has secured permission from Secretary Farley for the clubs to hold their players for a couple of weeks while an effort is being made to reorganize a new loop, but little hope is held out that a new organization will come into effect.

Moose Swims Pigeon Lake

While out at Pigeon Lake on Tuesday afternoon, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Gibson of Wetaskiwin, saw what they at first thought was a loon away from the lake, but as it came closer they watched it until it reached the first sandbar, when they were surprised to find that it was a moose. Mr. Cragg, of Edmonton, who is the camp owner at the lake, saw the animal and endeavored to take a snapshot of the moose. He succeeded in getting a distant snap but in doing so startled the moose which ran off through the shallow water toward the spirit corner of the beach. It is thought that, as the moose was so far out in the lake when first seen that it must have swam from the opposite side, a distance of over four miles from where it landed.

OBITUARY

Mrs. J. D. ENMAN
Friends of Mrs. J. D. Enman were shocked to hear of her death, which took place at the home of her brother Mr. John Muirhead, Summerville, P.E.I., this morning (Friday, June 21). The late Mrs. Enman whose maiden name was Miss Anna Muirhead, was a daughter of the late Hon. Jas. Muirhead, and was born at "Travelers' Rest," in 1847. She lived the greater part of her life in Summerville, removing to Wetaskiwin, Alberta, in 1913, where Mr. Enman died three years ago. She has been visiting her son, who is now residing in the winter with her daughter Mrs. C. M. Chisholm, in Wolfville, N.S., returning to Summerville about a month ago. Her illness was of brief duration, and she died peacefully. Mrs. Enman, Summerville; Lawrence, Moose Jaw, Sask.; Chas. D. and Mrs. Anna, Wetaskiwin, Alberta; and Mrs. C. M. Chisholm, Wolfville, N.S. The funeral will be held on Sunday afternoon from the Presbyterian church in People's cemetery. To the bereaved family The Agriculturalists extend deep sympathy—Agriculturists, Summerville, P.E.I.

Ladies' Aid Society Surprise Mrs. Higgs

The ladies' aid of the Methodist church met at the home of Mrs. G. Wallace on Wednesday last week, when, after the business was dispatched, a social hour was spent. A happy program had been prepared, a special feature of which was the surprise to Mrs. Higgs, when she was presented with a silver plate as a souvenir of her many years' association with the L.A.

In making the presentation Mrs. Wallace spoke briefly of the regret all felt at the departure of one of the earliest members of the Ladies' Aid, and expressed appreciation of the ready assistance so cheerfully given at all times.

Mrs. Higgs thought quite taken by surprise, made a neat little speech of thanks for the gift, and the good wishes of the members. Refreshments were served by the hostess.

CROW'S NEST PASS AGREEMENT WILL BE SUSPENDED FURTHER

Ottawa, June 19.—The special committee on the Crow's Nest Pass agreement and railway transportation costs on Tuesday held its first executive meeting for the preparation of its report. The discussion was preliminary and the proceedings were adjourned until Monday without reaching a decision. There was much talk around the corridors, and reports of possible outcome, and it is said in some quarters that the further suspension of the agreement is a foregone conclusion.

It is not likely, so the report runs, that the agreement will be abrogated but a suspension of from one to three years is regarded as pretty well settled.

A great deal of interest centers around the list of "basic commodities" on which a reduction of rates has been offered by the railways. In this connection attention is directed to the fact that President Beatty of the Canadian Pacific Railway, in his report yesterday. It is said that the purpose of his visit was to talk over the question with the minister of railways.

It is said further that Mr. Beatty's trip had to do specially with the rates on grain. This is the commodity in which the west is specially interested and the idea is expressed that, if the railways are willing to give a low enough rate on this vital article, the western members will be willing to accept the further suspension of the Crow's Nest agreement with resignation. If not with equality.

Western members have said, however, that with them it is a case of the Crow's Nest agreement, first, last, and all the time. It has even been suggested that they may try to bring the agreement to a premature end by talking out any bill introduced to continue the suspension. This was done, however, it would be necessary to keep the house sitting until after July 6, the date at which the suspension of the Crow's Nest agreement ceases. On the other hand, such a course is thought to be very unlikely, as it would lead to great confusion in the freight rate question, since the exchange rate schedule lapses on July 1, and it is claimed that this confusion would be held at the door of those who held up the legislation.

Moreover, attention has been called to the fact that if a bill were held up beyond July 1 it would be possible to restore the suspension and then nothing would have been gained by those who desire to do away with it.

THE LAST DRINK GETS THROUGH TO DAWSON IN YUKON

Dawson, Y.T., June 20.—A trainload of assorted drinkables steamed into Canadian territory on the White Pass and Yukon railway last Thursday evening, a few hours before the embargo on intoxicants passing through United States territory became effective. 14 freight cars packed to the roof brought provision against the probable dry, which would have intervened, if, over the United States government can be prevailed upon to permit the Yukon to bring its liquor through the Alaskan approach, the only present route available.

The embargo, brought about by the decision of the United States supreme court that liquor could not be carried through American territory, from the Yukon to the States, became effective at midnight on 13th June. The last cargo of liquors left Vancouver on June 10 by steamboat, and reached Skagway, Alaska, June 15. From there, the schedules have to be revised for a day or so, but the Yukon's last drink got through. The selling value of the train was more than $70,000. Liquors worth about $20,000 were carried by the present vendors in the Yukon and a small consignment also was carried for the British Columbia government stores in the Atlin district of British Columbia.

BASKETBALL GIRLS MEET WITH SUCCESS

The Wetaskiwin Basketball Girls are meeting with success everywhere. On Friday, June 16, they went to Fort Walsh and returned victorious. They played on the Fort Walsh grounds, one game with Meleek Creek, the score being 19 to 2. On Wednesday's day, Rosalind then played Fort Walsh, with the latter winning. Wetaskiwin then played Fort Walsh and won with a score of 17 to 12, receiving $15.00 as prize for the game. Fort Walsh has previously won two games with Fort Walsh and New Norway. Thus in the one day the Wetaskiwin team won the championship over Meleek Creek, Rosalind, Fort Walsh, New Norway and Fort Walsh. The Wetaskiwin team is composed of the following players: Forwards, Muriel Switzer, Janet Vanier, Centres, Nora Compton, Agnes Gaudin, Guards, Agnes Kellee, Annie Goodhand, (capt).

On May 24th Muriel and Lodee played at Millet with Milne winning. Wetaskiwin then played Millet, who gave the game to Wetaskiwin at the end of the second end, the score being 4 to 0. On June 2nd, the Wetaskiwin team went to Fort Deer and won with a score of 13 to 1.

In summing up the Wetaskiwin team of brides being champions of the district already mentioned, are now the champions of Lodee, Millet and Fort Deer.

Mr. Stewart will hold conferences with representatives of provincial governments and railway companies with a view to securing cooperation in the settling of immigrants on the land. While in the west, Mr. Stewart will visit the different Indian reservations in his capacity as minister of the department of Indian affairs.

Miners in Diving Suits Picking Up Hundreds of Dollars Every 3 Hours

Vancouver, June 18.—Placer miners are going after gold on the bed of the Fraser river, and wearing diving suits to do it, according to reports from the interior of British Columbia. Two gangs of deep sea miners are already at work, at Lillooet and at the confluence of the Chinook and Fraser rivers. Each outfit, working a three hour day in all, are said to be getting $700 to $1,000 a day in their "pokes."

Some enthusiastic prospectors are claiming that if the Fraser could only be diverted for a hundred miles, British air war debt would be wiped out in six months with the gold which could be picked up in its bed by hand.

The use of the aeroplane in prospecting on mountain creeks has also been tried up there with success.

VERNO

A MEDICAL COMPOUND

For Sciatica, Lumbago or Rheumatism, it has no equal.

Verno Medical Co., Ltd.

For the sake of those suffering from rheumatism, I write this to say that I have been affected with this serious trouble for over five years. Two years ago I was in bed for twelve weeks, and this last spring was in bed for seven. I suffered day and night and was given up by some of the best doctors in the city to die. I had also tried many remedies which had been recommended to me, without any success. By chance a friend told the Verno agent about me and he called, and thinks he is that day when he did so. I have never been so well for years. And any person to do so I would be glad to have them call and see me and I would gladly tell them how I suffered and the benefit I received from Verno.

Yours truly
Miss Agnes C. Brown

New Game Regulations

New regulations concerning the hunting and killing of game in the north country have been put into effect, as announced by Benjamin Law, chief game guardian of the province.

For some time, residents north of parallel 56, have been permitted to kill game at any season of the year for their own use, but this privilege has been reserved for residents and others. At the last session of the legislature the game act was amended to provide that no person shall kill game birds save during the open season, which in the case of ducks and geese is from September 1st to December 14th and for prairie chickens and partridge from October 15 to October 31. Except in the case of ducks and geese, which are called Black Duck. These may be killed at any time north of the 56th parallel. In the case of big game the act now provides that residents of this part of the province residing north of the 56th parallel may kill big game during the close season only after having obtained a resident's big game license, but in no case are big game animals to be killed during the closed seasons unless required for food.

New Police Commissioner

Announcement has been made by Attorney General J. E. Brownridge of the appointment of W. C. Bryan, superintendent of the Alberta provincial police, to be commissioner of the force in place of Commissioner Alfred Cuthbert, who has returned east to Toronto.

Col. Bryan's appointment became effective June 15. The offices of the superintendent and commissioner will be established. Col. Bryan is a former mounted police officer with a long record of police work. He has been with the Alberta force for some years. Recognition has also been given to the services of Inspector Nicholson, chief detective of the force, who also has a notable record of achievement in police work in Alberta, both with the mounted police and the Alberta force.

Over 10,000 applications have been made to the department of education by students wishing to write on the departmental examinations this month.

There will be over 1500 examination centres, 1000 of which will be rural where high school entrance examinations will be written.

By-Elections July 10th

Writs for the three by-elections for the Provincial house to be held in the ridings of Bigstone, Whitford and Selkirk, have been issued, calling for nominations to be held on July 3rd, and elections ten days later.

A second action to determine whether or not slot machines are "illegal gambling devices" has been commenced by the attorney general's department in the courts of Edmonton.

The 1923 convention of the church of the brethren, one of the largest organizations in the world, will be held at Calgary, and will bring about 20,000 visitors, mostly agriculturists, to the province.

How to Use Hopper Poison

A great deal of grasshopper poison bait is being wasted it has been found by the department of agriculture through the fact that the bait is often put out at the wrong time of day and in some cases before the hoppers have made their appearance at all. Grasshoppers begin to feed in the morning when the sun becomes hot enough to heat them up, and this is the time to place the bait. Good judgment must be used in this regard, but from present observations on ordinary warm days, the proper time to place the bait is between 6:30 and 9 in the morning. The effectiveness of the bait depends much upon this. The bait may be effective for two hours if the moisture condition of the bait is right, but not be effective for an hour if the bait is put out too late in the day. Young grasshoppers suck rather than eat, thus the importance of having proper moisture condition in the bait.

Plans which have been under consideration for some time by officials of the provincial department of agriculture and the agricultural college in cooperation with the officials of the dominion seed branch in Calgary have now been perfected for the establishment of an effective scheme for the marketing of registered seed grain produced in Alberta. The plans are the result of a conference between W. J. Stoppen, crop commissioner of the department of agriculture; Prof. Carter of the field husbandry branch of the agricultural college, and G. M. Stewart, representing the dominion seed branch and it is hoped that the executive of the seed branch at Ottawa will agree to these plans. Announcement of the plans was made by Hon. George Hodley, minister of agriculture.

Alberta has long been recognized as one of the province's specialties in the production of quality seed, particularly in cereals, grasses and clovers. The climatic conditions are conducive to the production of large, strong and pure seed and it is recognized that pure seed produced true to variety is in great demand not only in Canada but in the middle and western states.

The new plan for marketing of seed will operate as follows:

The field husbandry branch of the agricultural college will continue to produce as formerly pure registered seed of wheat, oats and barley, and to handle this seed as it has one in the past, and in cooperation with the seed branch of the provincial department of agriculture. The field inspection work will be carried on under the supervision of the provincial seed branch, and the grading and bin inspection will be attended to entirely by the dominion seed branch.

The new plan for marketing of seed will be handled by the provincial departments of agriculture.

Arrangements are to be made where, by central cleaning facilities for the seed will be established.

Another feature of the marketing plan will be inaugurated this year will be the placing of a properly selected exhibit of seed and grasses at some of the state fairs of the central and western states. This exhibit will be a combination exhibit for the purpose not only of encouraging a market for Alberta seed but also for immigration purposes. The exhibit will be placed in states from where it is felt suitable settlers can be drawn, settlers who are in a position financially and who are desirous of establishing themselves in Alberta.

The seed will be registered as usual by the Canadian Seed Growers' association.

Mysterious Russia

In Russia men are starving, and starving are their wives; there are no coats for carving when dinner time arrives. The kids in vain are calling for liverwurst and pie, the vultures see them falling and tear them when they die. These facts I gain by reading a book just from the press, in my poor Russia bleeding and weep in me

The New Plebsicite

The social service league expects a plebsicite of some kind soon upon the Alberta Temperance act. The moderationalists or by whatever name the opponents of prohibition are known, are now circulating a petition for a plebsicite on the sale of stronger beer. Sooner or later the people will vote again upon the subject of prohibition. If the people are opposed to the present legislation then of course it should be repealed. The uncertainty at present which seems to be fostered and encouraged by the opponents makes the enforcement of the legislation somewhat more difficult. The vote would be a plebsicite on the subject. It is strongly in favor of prohibition, which is not unlikely, it will give driving power to honest effort which is now being made to enforce the law. It is defeated, then prohibition will be at an end. It would be better all round, it seems, if the vote could be delayed for one or two years. In the first place there is no unanimity among the people who are pressing for change in the present law. First they advocated some form of sale as has been adopted in British Columbia with government control and government sale. But now they are for the general sale, not by government, but by private individuals of stronger beer. This would mean the old beer, but limited to beer. On the other hand the present government, which is making a vigorous effort to enforce the act should have a reasonable time to show whether it can or not improve conditions. The new government has been in office less than a year. The attorney general is just completing his organizations. In fairness to the public this new organization should be given an opportunity of proving its worth. The time for a plebsicite is about 18 months from date. Then the public will be in a position to judge what has been done. The opponents of the act will be certain what they want. Then the people of Alberta can vote intelligently and decide upon the big problem—Alcohol.

The Forest
Fire Plague

Despite reiterated warnings, the toll taken by fires from the Canadian forests grows in volume with each succeeding year. The statistics for 1921 reads that forest fires are raging all over the province, remarks that it is too bad, and promptly forgets all about it. But to the man in the street the forest fire ought to be a very serious matter, for in the long run it is his pocket that it directly affects. Canada's timber is her second greatest asset; its actual and potential value is colossal; yet every year it is destroyed to the extent of hundreds of millions of dollars. Who starts the fires? The railways, say some; picnic parties and careless sportsmen, say others; spontaneous combustion from concentration of the sun's rays during a prolonged drought, say others again. Doubtless all three causes contribute more or less. It is also equally beyond doubt that none of these three causes can be wholly eliminated. There remains the work of taking such precautionary measures as shall reduce the risks to a minimum.

This can be done in many ways—by providing a thoroughly adequate forest ranger's service, both as to numbers, equipment and efficiency. For the chief forest ranger of Quebec to talk about forbidding people to enter into the woods during periods of drought without a special permit is so much waste of words, for such a law could never be enforced, and its mere existence would probably lead to its break. But if observation stations were established throughout every forest district in the dominion, at points which command a view of a wide range of country, and if these were equipped with high power telescopes and men trained in observation who would maintain a constant watch in lines of military regularity and thoroughness, a big step would have been taken toward minimizing the damage done by forest fires.

To fight such fires requires special training and equipment, and a search force hastily assembled to cope with an unforeseen emergency is of little use. There must be trained men, and plenty of them. There must be the proper equipment, and plenty of stations available and easy of reach. There must be a complete and effective signaling system and the rangers must stick to their work from early spring until winter comes. If such a service were established, Canada's forest fires sweeping over the great west lands would be very much less than it is today. The public can, of course, do their part by exercising care and common sense, but experience has proved that to rely upon the public to any large extent in such matters is very much like leaving a water for support. A complete, efficient and up to date forest ranger service is one of the greatest needs in this dominion today. Both federal and provincial governments are naturally tagously combine to see that the need is not without delay—Montreal Star.

Tree Planting
on the Prairie

The forestry branch of the department of the interior has just issued a valuable booklet entitled "The Success which has been attained in tree-planting on the prairies." It is believed at one time that it would be impossible to grow trees successfully on the prairies, and many early attempts were decided failures, but the experts foresters experimented and investigated until they discovered just what kinds of trees would grow and just the kind of treatment that was needed to make them grow. The government is realizing the value of tree belts to the country, adopted the policy of providing free trees for all who would plant and for the value of the trees in 1901, 55,000 seedlings were supplied to forty-seven farmers in Manitoba and the North-west territories. In 1902, 455,000 seedlings were sent out; in 1903, 917,000; and in 1904, 1,300,000; while in 1917 some 7,664,000 seedlings and cuttings were sent out from the Indian Head and Saskatoon nursery stations. From 1901 to 1921, not less than 60,000,000 seedlings and cuttings were sent out. There have been some failures, but in a great majority of cases the trees have grown and the prairie is now dotted with 40,000 small tree belts, which are valued collectively at $12,500,000. And the work is only begun. It has been demonstrated conclusively that there are certain types of trees which will thrive upon the prairie, and the demand for these trees is increasing every year. These tree belts add a touch of beauty to the farm home while they protect the house and stock and crops from heavy storms. It is also found that this shelter makes possible the successful cultivation of fruits, ornamental shrubs, and flowers, which could not be grown successfully before the planting of the protective tree belt.

During the first ten years, trees such as Russian poplar, Manitoba Maple, white birch, ash and elm grow much more rapidly than the conifers, such as Sitka spruce and American fir. Jack pine and lodge pole pine, and white spruce; but during the next ten years the conifers grow so rapidly that they overtake, or nearly overtake the others, reaching a height of from seventy to a half to twenty-five feet. This process of restoration promises to go forward very rapidly, both in eastern and western Canada under a wise forestry scheme on the part of the dominion and provincial governments.

The Pestilent Mosquito

The entomological branch of the dominion department of agriculture is conducting investigations in British Columbia in connection with the mosquito. In the state of the mosquito in the act of combating this pest, the mosquito is to locate the breeding grounds; and in this work the branch has received much assistance from the Canadian Air Force. What has been accomplished in locating breeding areas by means of the camera and the aeroplane is detailed in an article in the May-June number of the Agricultural Gazette of Canada.

So far, the Lower Fraser valley of British Columbia constitutes the region in which the campaign has been mainly carried on. The investigation, which embraces 2,000 square miles of affected territory was started in 1915. The first season an automobile was employed in a scouting expedition to ascertain the mosquito fauna of the district. The second season was devoted to a study of the factors determining mosquito abundance, for this utilized to penetrate the huge cotton swamps which are the main breeding places. In 1921 the mapping of the breeding places was engaged in and it was surveying the areas that the aeroplane was called into service. During the war ornamental ponds were drained because it was found that the water was a guide to zepplin raiders. In a similar manner flooded swamps, the breeding places of the pest, were revealed to the aviator, who besides observations took useful photographs. In this way the knowledge of location necessary for the eradication of the mosquito was obtained. The extent of the breeding of mosquitoes in the district referred to will be understood when it is stated that by actual count, 3,218 fertile eggs were revealed in a single square foot of sod cut from a mossy swampy bog. If the entire area surveyed were similarly

WHY THE BRITISH
FARMERS WANT A
CATTLE EMBARGO

An open letter from the farmers of Great Britain to the farmers of Canada has come through the live stock defence committee, of which the Marquis of Crewe is chairman. It purports to have been written for the sake of giving Canadian farmers an understanding of just how the old country feels on the cattle embargo question.

The letter begins with a reminder that the British agriculturalist is passing through a hard time and just now realizes that his future depends more than ever on breeding and feeding stock. This being so, he views with dismay the threat of the removal of that security from serious disease which has for close on thirty years enabled him to pursue a breeding policy uninterrupted by such scourges as cattle plague and pleuro pneumonia. "That such diseases are not likely to be brought in by Canadian cattle is acknowledged, but the British farmer fears that once the door is opened to let in the healthy cattle from the dominion of Canada every other country in the world which can show a parent freedom from disease will clamor to be admitted and cannot well be excluded."

After the passing of the act of 1895 the letter goes on, "our best of cattle after remaining stagnant at about 10,000,000 head for thirty years, gradually increased to 12,145,000 in 1914. During the war the number increased from 12,145,000 on June 10, 1914 to 12,145,000 in 1919, but declined to 11,732,000 in 1920, recovering considerably in 1921. Such figures, we claim, justify our contention that the complete prohibition of imported cattle on the hoof, except for humane slaughter, at the ports, has given a sense of security to stock breeders, especially in view of the fact that there has not been a case of pleuro pneumonia in the past of the pasting of the stock. Moreover, the quality of beef and milk cattle has been improved, owing to the earlier maturity in the case of beef cattle, and the increased individual milk yielding in that of dairy cattle."

"Since 1895 the only serious disease that has troubled us is foot and mouth disease. We have for several years at a time been free from it, but quite recently there has been a severe outbreak. It is quite clear that if a case is detected before contact with other cattle, it can be easily and quickly eradicated, or at least restricted. The recent outbreak was traced to one source, and spread through not having been detected early enough. It may be noted that Scotland, which for many years has been free from foot and mouth disease (just as in the same way your dominion has been free from the same disease in spite of outbreaks in the United States), on this occasion suffered as well as England."

"Briefly stated, our reason for resisting any change in the existing law is that we are convinced that if once the door is unlocked, it will be opened wider and wider, and that the result will go back in the position of 1895-1896, with all its dangers of serious disease. We feel that the danger of the prospect of insecurity which will so obviously be the result of the act, will go partially or entirely out of the business."

"Under the circumstances in which you, in common with others in many industries are placed, we appreciate your wish to find another market for your stock, but the Hon. Duncan Marshall, minister of agriculture for Alberta, when cross examined on the 13th of June last, before the royal commission, virtually admitted that there was little or no prospect of a profit for you in the shipping of stock to Alberta. "We expect to find it more profitable (to ship here) than to ship nowhere."

"Do you regard it as unreasonable on our part if we resist attempts which, if successful, will put the small farmer out of business and create a feeling of great insecurity among all stock breeders? Counsel representing us before the Finlay royal commission put our case as follows: "We have at present got in this country pedigree herds of unrivalled value, herds which are the source of supply of the very highest quality of cattle for all over the world, and to run any risk of those herds possibly having to be exterminated—because if once some of these diseases get in among them, you may have to destroy the whole herd—to run that risk for the very problematical advantage of getting a few extra store cattle in to be fattened is, in the submission of those whom I represent, an unreasonable thing to do."

"Do you think if you would be proud of the case that some of your friends here are putting forward in your name. We are told that certain of the prairie producers are peopled by foreign born farmers who will become disloyal to the empire if Canadian stores are not given unrestricted entry into the United Kingdom. We refuse to believe that the loyalty of the empire or any part of it depends on such a contingency. But this is one of the assertions put forward by certain newspapers which, for the sake of a few cheap sales, are pushing your interests to the complete exclusion of those of the English farmer and breeder."

"Our friends in this country are represented by a certain group of butchers, meat traders, dock authorities and shipping interests who are seeking, under the cloak of the Canadian farmer, to give greater control to the American meat trust in the English meat market. Among the early halts they held out was the prediction that the admission of your stores would be immediately followed by the fall in the price of meat here by at the least 60 per cent. That was a false and impossible prophecy put forward with the object of gaining the vote of the urban consumer, but although, owing to its having been proved false and impossible, it has been discarded, its effect still remains."

BRAND GOVERNMENT
CONTROL OF LIQUOR
A COLOSSAL FAILURE

Calgary, June 18—Declaring that so-called government control of liquor is a colossal failure, Alberta Baptists in convention here, strenuously objected to any change towards leniency in the provincial liquor act.

It was asked that the government deport any person, subject to deportation who was found guilty of infraction of the act. It was asserted that the propaganda of the hotel interests to legalize 3½ weight beer, means 7½ proof spirits, and "pre-war" beer, the opinion here and its consequences evil. Further the convention asked that every police officer be given a civil division of the fine in cases of conviction under the act.

RAILWAYMEN VOTE OVERWHELMINGLY IN FAVOR OF STRIKE

Cincinnati, June 18—An overwhelming majority in favor of a strike was cast by members of eleven shop crafts and maintenance of way unions, and a statement issued here by the heads of the unions affected by recent decision of the railway labor board, who added that the decisions of members would be complied with by them. The combined members of the unions affected is 1,225,000.

By the vote of every delegate, the American Federation of Labor convention endorsed the anti-strike resolution of the strike that since April 1 has kept half a million men from working, and also indicated by a demonstration, its approval of threatened walkout of more than 1,500,000 railway workers. The demonstration was loud cheers, and came from all parts of the convention hall, when M. Jewell, president of the railway employees department of the federation, told the convention that the rail union chiefs would not interfere to stop a strike. The "One Big Union" plan, advanced by W. L. Foster, was rejected by the convention without debate.

LIVER BOTHERED HER
WAS DROWSY AND TIRED
ALL THE TIME

When the liver is inactive everything seems to go wrong, and unless you get it working properly a great many troubles will arise, and you will become tired, weak, listless, feel all-gone, and a thousand other things seem to be the matter with you. "To get rid of these feelings you must stimulate the sluggish liver into activity, and for this purpose we know of nothing to equal Milburn's Lax-Liver Pills. Mrs. H. D. Hutchinson, 183 London St., Peterborough, Ont., writes:—"I have been using Milburn's Lax-Liver Pills, and they have done me a lot of good. My liver bothered me a great deal; I was drowsy and tired all the time and didn't feel like doing anything, let alone my housework. I tried everything, but my pills seemed to do the work better than anything I had ever taken."

DUNLOP
CORD TIRES FABRIC

Dunlop Mile-age

"MILEAGE" is the magic word in Tiredom these days, and Dunlop Tires right across the continent are rolling up record after record.

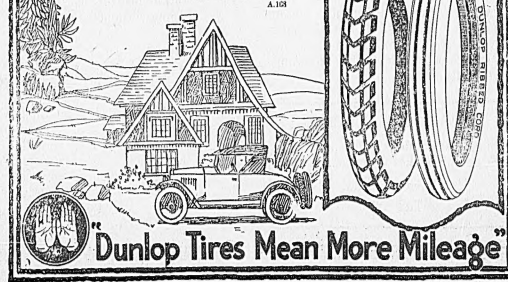

To think about a 5,000-mile Tire is to live in the past; to talk about a 10,000-mile Tire is to be "just ordinary"; to dwell on a 15,000, 20,000, 25,000 mile Tire is to get into that rubber sphere where Dunlop is pre-eminent the leader.

Ask for Dunlop Cord and specify "Traction." Then you are on your way to a new experience.

JOYFUL NEWS FOR HOME BREWER, ITEM NOW STRUCK OUT

Ottawa, June 19.—The day is saved for the home brewer. Item number ten in the budget resolutions, which would have prohibited the brewing of beer by anyone except a regularly licensed brewer, was struck out Saturday night at the request of W. S. Fiedling, who said that while officers of the inland revenue department felt there had been abuses in the past in connection with the "home brew" industry, he had now come to the conclusion that the proposed remedy would perhaps be worse than the disease it was meant to cure.

THE TIMES IS EQUIPPED TO DO YOUR PRINTING.

Mr. Farmer

I want you to know that I am prepared to give you a repair service on your old harvester machines this year at a reasonable price, so please keep this in mind and if your old binder needs looking over before harvest, now is the time.

Let me know at once so that your name will be on my list and then you will not be disappointed, either in getting my man, or in repairs, as although I try to keep all parts on hand, I may run short of some, so to protect you and myself I have a man here who is thoroughly familiar with all Massey Harris machines.

If you are thinking about a new or second hand binder, come in and see me as I have several on hand.

A MOTHER OF FIVE CHILDREN

They Are Seldom Sick Unless From Bowel Trouble

Mrs. George Chapman, Sully, Ont. writes:—I am the mother of five children, and I must say that they are all sick or in need of medicine. They are, however, sometimes troubled with Summer Complaint, Diarrhoea, and such like, but I always find that there is a cause for worry as I just give them two of these doses, no more, of Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry, and the trouble soon disappears. It is a remedy that all mothers should keep in the home for their children's use.

This old, tried and proven medicine for Diarrhoea, Dysentery, Colic, Cramps and Croup, is the Standard Remedy for all the Looseness of the Bowels, has been on the market for the past 77 years, and we cannot help but recommend it as the very best preparation you can possibly use for all bowel troubles.

At the same time we wish to warn you against accepting a substitute for the original, the price of which is 50c per bottle, and put up only by The T. Milburn Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont.

NEW CONSTITUTION PUTTING IRELAND

UPON SAME BASIS AS DOMINION,

ALLEGIANCE TO KING MUST BE SWORN

London, June 17.—The draft of the new Irish Constitution, made public on the eve of the Irish elections, gives—as the document itself states—force of law to the Anglo-Irish treaty and thereby declares that any provision of the constitution which is "in any respect repugnant to the treaty shall be void and inoperative."

"The constitution thus embodies connection with the British crown as already established in the treaty, and generally places the relations between Ireland and the Empire on the same basis as Canada and the other dominions."

The constitution requires that every member of the Free State parliament subscribe faith and allegiance to the constitution and swear to be faithful to the King in virtue of the common citizenship of Ireland and Great Britain and Ireland's membership in the British commonwealth of nations.

The document contains seventy-nine articles, and is considered an apoccal instrument, not only granting female suffrage, proportional representation, and a referendum to the people, but also empowering the people themselves to initiate legislation. It gives to the chamber great powers in respect to money bills, without control from the senate, thus duplicating the position as between the British house of commons and house of lords.

Just as Canada, under the Free State from active participation in war without the consent of parliament, except in the case of actual invasion, and gives the Irish supreme court the fullest power, only stipulation for the rights of citizens to appeal to the king's council against the supreme court's decision.

It provides for freedom of religion and conscience, gives free state citizens full protection against the arbitrary power of courts-martial and extends to parliament exclusive control over the armed forces, as stipulated in the treaty.

World's Largest Lifeboat

Arrangements have been made in Great Britain for building a new type of motor lifeboat which will be the largest of any yet known. Its length will be 60 feet and its beam 15 feet and its normal draft 5 feet 6 inches. It will be a 60 ton vessel propelled by twin screws, driven by 20 horse power engines, at a speed of from 9 to 10 knots. It will be able to cruise for 100 miles without replenishing its supplies.

Two passenger cabins are provided, one at the bow and one at the stern, giving a total passenger capacity of 150 people. Appliances are provided for supplying warmth and hot food and for rendering first aid to the injured. An interesting feature of the equipment is the provision of a searchlight and lifebuoy net in addition to a gun for firing a live over a vessel in distress. This vessel will be stationed in the Mersey.

CREOSOTED POSTS OUTLAST CEDAR

For many years it has been thought that the only timber that would give a reasonable period of service as fence posts was cedar. The forest products laboratories of the department of the interior at Ottawa, however, find that by employing a comparatively simple method it is possible to treat posts of certain hardwoods in such a way that they will have a life at least twice as long as cedar posts. The preservative is clearly shown in fencing erected at the dominion forestry branch forest nursery erected in Indian Head in 1917. Here posts of Russian Poplar were treated and some used not treated, and it is interesting to note that all the untreated posts erected at this time have rotted and been removed while the treated posts are all still in service and appear as sound as the day they were placed in position.

FOURTH REPORT ALBERTA CROPS

(Issued by the Publicity Commissioner, Edmonton, Alberta)

Dry conditions prevail over the major portion of the province, and the need of rain is urgent, but generally speaking the condition of the crops in Alberta is fairly satisfactory at the present date, according to the official reports which have been received by the agricultural department.

The south-western portion of the province has been favored with a considerable amount of moisture since May 1, and crop conditions there are better than for some years, and give indication of producing an excellent yield. The entire western half of the south part of Alberta is, in fact, showing a very encouraging condition. Another cheering feature of the present situation is that the grasshopper campaign is proving effective in most districts and the percentage of loss from this cause will be small.

The south-eastern and central areas of the province, however, are experiencing very dry conditions, and many places are in urgent need of rain, but the grain is standing up well in spite of the lack of moisture. Good general rains before the end of June will put the grain in very satisfactory shape. Timothy and other hay crops in the central and northern districts will be light this year. Alfalfa and rye are showing splendid growth in the south, but in the north rye and root crops have suffered from lack of moisture and from the severe frost of ten days ago.

South western areas—Good growing conditions prevail from Calgary south to Lethbridge and to boundary and eastward, where precipitation has been reasonably heavy. Rye is 30 in. high. Spring wheat shows a vigorous growth of from 5 to 7 inches. Alfalfa will be ready to cut within the next ten days. Considerable summerfalling is being done. Grasshoppers are very numerous and active, but have been checked in many localities by effective work with bait.

South eastern areas—Rain is needed everywhere, precipitation having been light since May 1, but the grain will not suffer greatly for another week. South of the Red River to the boundary and east of Calgary to Medicine Hat very dry conditions prevail, although there have been some good local showers. Alfalfa and rye crops are splendid and the pasture in most localities is the best for years and livestock is in generally good condition. Further local showers fell over these areas the latter part of the week.

Central areas—Dry conditions prevail almost the entire distance from Edmonton south to Calgary, the section suffering the most being from Olds south to Calgary and eastward. There have been some local showers, and general rains before end of June will put the grain in satisfactory condition. Rainfall, however, has been light over the whole territory from Edmonton to Calgary and eastward to the Saskatchewan boundary and along the main lines of the national railway.

Northern areas—Northern areas are experiencing dry conditions, but the crops generally are still fairly satisfactory. Good local showers fell on Friday, June 16, over the Edmonton district and south along the C. & E. Grand Prairie and Peace River districts report some need of rain. From Edmonton east to the border and west to the foothills, pasture and hay crops have suffered from lack of moisture, but the grain is standing up well and will show splendid growth if good rains come along soon. The frost ten days ago did damage to corn and to root crops.

SUBSTANTIAL SAVING IN TWINE THIS YEAR

Binder twine manufacturers have announced radical price reductions that will save the farmers of Canada an amount of $7,000,000.

This may sound like a pretty large figure to be saved on "the purchase of so simple a commodity as twine but that is because very few people realize the tremendous amount of twine that is used by the grain producing countries. When the average farmer goes to town just prior to the harvest and loads up the necessary twine to bind his crops, it is doubtful if he ever stops to figure the amount of binder twine that is used annually throughout the world. His grain field comprising 200 300 or 1,000 acres seem very large to him and indeed they are. But consider the sum total of all the grain fields in Canada. Imagine, being in the centre of 45,000,000 acres of small grain, which is the

HEALTH MESSAGE TO THE WORLD

Take "Fruit-a-lives" And Make Yourself Well

"Fruit-a-lives," the famous medicinal tonic made from fruit juices and tonics, is the most beneficial medicinal agent that has ever been put to mankind.

Just as oranges, apples, figs and prunes are nature's own medicine, so "Fruit-a-lives"—made from these fruit juices—but concentrated and intensified—is the greatest Stomach and Liver Medicine, the greatest Kidney and Bladder Medicine—the greatest Blood Purifier—the greatest remedy for Headaches, Constipation, Indigestion, Nervousness and Bad Complexion—in the world. To be well, take "Fruit-a-lives!"

total acreage for Canada in 1921 as given by the government estimates. How much twine would it take to bind the grain on a farm of 45,000,000 acres? Two and one half pounds to the acre is a very conservative figure, and it gives us 112,500,000 pounds of twine or 2,250,000 bales. Placed end to end these bales would form a solid line 1,005 miles long. Counting 50 bales to the carload it would require a solid train of 5,700 cars extending forty miles to haul it.

Standard manila, which is the brand of twine most universally used in Canada, runs 550 feet to the pound; so we get the pleasing figure of 61,875,000,000 feet of twine to bind the grain on 45,000,000 acres. If this twine could be tied together, it would reach five times the distance to the moon, or 117,510 miles to be exact. It would encircle the world 470 times.

So we see that Canadian farmers are very much interested in binder twine. This year the spread between the price of the highest grade binder twine and that of cheaper brands is very slight. The price of one standard band of twine this year is 5 to 6 cents less than last year. Other brands are reduced substantially.

What does a reduction of 5 to 6 cents a pound mean to the farmers of Canada? Based on our calculations on the amount of twine necessary to bind up 45,000,000 acres, the total saving which would accrue to the farmers of Canada by reason of the reduction is $7,000,000. Canadian farmers deserve congratulations on this immense saving now in sight for 1922. The manufacturers are likewise to be congratulated on making this very attractive price. It indicates a willingness to help the farmer meet present difficulties, which will bring its own reward.

Could Eat But Few Bites of Food Each Day

Victoria Woman Says She Suffered so from Stomach Trouble She Would Nearly Scream—Gives Tanlac Full Credit for Her Complete Recovery.

"I was on the verge of nervous prostration but now, thanks to Tanlac, I feel so well it seems almost too good to be true," said Mrs. F. Shipper, 2435 Quatra St., a lifelong resident of Victoria, B.C.

"I was taken down with influenza and afterwards was all run down with my stomach badly upset. My appetite left me and a few days once a day was about all I could eat. My back ached so bad that I had to lie down two or three times a day. I was so nervous I was I could do so keep from screaming, and headaches nearly drove me to hysterics.

Three bottles of Tanlac gave me such a fine appetite that I can hardly get enough to eat. I am free from pains and my nerves are calm and steady once more. I am only too glad to give a word of praise to this grand medicine."

Tanlac is sold by all good druggists.

IMMENSE STEER WEIGHS 2700, BUT DOESN'T MIND IT

On the farm of C. W. Parsons of Duhamel there is an immense steer, five years of age, which runs the scales up to 2700 pounds. Mr. Parsons bought this mountain of flesh as a yearling and has been interested in keeping him despite his capacity for food just to see how big he would become. He ranges with other cattle but has been grain fed for the past year winters. He is big and gentle and Mr. Parsons' little eight year old son, Marion, took on the contract some time ago of feeding his big chum.

While not absolutely sure of the exact percentage, Mr. Parsons knows that he is well bred and is of the Red Durham type. Visitors from Calgary and other points have called to see this tremendous big beef steer and it is extremely doubtful if there is such an animal of his kind to touch him as far as weight is concerned, 1600 pounds being considered a heavy weight for a steer.

FOREST FIRE LAW IS STRENGTHENED

Many important amendments were made to the Forest and Prairie Fire Act of the province of Alberta at the last session of the legislature. The principal of these amendments, which will greatly lessen the difficulty of combating fires, and which are welcomed by all who have to do with the forests, are the following:

All Dominion forest and fire ranger, Royal Canadian Mounted Police, Provincial Police and municipal councillors are ex-officio fire guardians with authority to enforce the act. Municipal councils must appoint fire guardians.

Fire guardians have the power to order out any male persons over sixteen years of age to help in fighting a prairie or forest fire. There are of course the usual exemptions in the case of postmasters, physicians, telegraph operators, etc.

Spark arresters must be used on motor engines, with a view to preventing fires originating from sparks thrown from smokestacks or steamboats operating on the northern lakes and rivers.

Provision is made for the establishment of fire districts. In these timbered areas it is illegal to start clearing fires between April 1st and November 15th, without a special permit.

The scale of penalties for violation of the forest fire act has been revised and the penalties made heavier, so that there will be greater respect for the act.

Strawberries

With the strawberry season full up to blue it is a good time now for growers to make the adaptation of the variety or varieties he is growing to his conditions. One consideration must be given to yield, size of fruit, shipping ability, quality and any special feature. To select a variety solely on the merits of its yielding ability is poor practice. It must be a good shipper; palatable, of good size and if it can, in addition, be recommended to the consumer as an exceptionally good eating berry, so much the better.

Calgary Exhibition

Prospects are exceedingly promising for the best exhibition ever held at Calgary, to take place June 30 to July 7, when for four days, His Excellency Baron Byng of Vimy, governor general of Canada, will be the guest of honor in Calgary at his first official visit to western Canada. Baron Byng will perform the official ceremonies of the exhibition on July 4th, Governor General's Day, and will take an active part in the exhibition activities from then until the close on July 7th, Girl's and Boy's day, which it is expected will be the biggest day of the week. Over fifty thousand invitations have been sent out to the citizens of the southern half of the province to be the guests of the management that day.

Entries closed on June 14th and there is not the slightest doubt that the live stock exhibit this year will surpass anything ever seen in Alberta. The fact that his excellency the governor general is intensely interested in the live stock of all kinds, and will be present during the judging of several of the classes at the Calgary exhibition has attracted a record entry from all parts of Canada. The number of live stock entries received from the United States has been increasing year by year and this year a number of the largest breeding establishments in the western States are making their debut as exhibitors for the first time at the Canada fair circuit, opening at Calgary.

In the way of entertainment, the very best has been obtained. The great popularity of the massed choir at last year's exhibition has induced the management to organize one this year and the best choirs in Calgary have combined for the purpose of singing at the exhibition. A massed band will also feature the musical program and several of the best musical vaudeville acts to be secured on the continent have been engaged.

The grand stand performance will conclude each evening with a grand firework spectacle "Bombs in Action" or "Bursting the Houdenburg Line." This is a most elaborate piece and will prove popular with patrons of all ages. Horse races will be the big feature of the afternoon on July 1st, 3rd, 4th and 5th, and automobile races on July 6th and 7th. A splendid array of race horses have been in training at the exhibition grounds since early in the spring getting ready for the opening of the fair circuit. Many of the entries for the exhibition races participated in the Victoria Day races at Calgary, when they made wonderful records.

A special rate of a fare and one third will be in effect on all railways for the exhibition from station to Alberta Saskatchewan and British Columbia as far west as Nelson and Golden. For those who are fond of camping out, the Calgary Auto Club provides a beautiful camping ground close to the exhibition grounds which the club places at the disposal of exhibition visitors free of charge, and every convenience is provided.

ALBERTA AND BRITISH COLUMBIA LINE TO BE FINISHED THIS FALL.

The British Columbia and Alberta interprovincial border will be continued from its present temporary terminus at 52 degrees 50 minutes latitude north, for approximately 150 miles this summer. The construction of the line and the erection of monuments is in charge of A. O. Wheeler, boundary commissioner for the province of British Columbia. The federal government is cooperating with the provinces in the work of determining this line, and to this end has detailed H. F. Lambert, from Ottawa, to assist the boundary commissioner by taking charge of the triangulation control. The line is now located along the crest of the Rockies from the 49th parallel to approximately Yellowhead Pass. It will now be pushed from there to the intersection of the 120th meridian with the height of land. At this latter point it will be tied into the meridian line that forms the northern portion of the interprovincial delineation that was run years ago by the dominion surveys branch.

Further aid will also be obtained from the federal authorities. This will take the form of assisting the surveyors to make preliminary investigation from the air, previous to beginning the work proper. For this purpose a machine will be allocated for duty from the air station at High River. The aircraft will carry surveyors over areas that are now little known and reveal topographical features of importance to the work in hand. It is expected that this reconnaissance will facilitate matters and greatly hasten the completion of the survey. In addition to being of advantage to this one job, much valuable data regarding outcrops may be secured and eventually made use of by the geological branch.

Araulo receiving set will be taken in to keep the party in touch with the outside world and to take time signals from the High River station. Mr. Lambert's outfit consists of a number of men and a pack train, and will be returning to Edmonton some time in the fall.
